Cash Flow - The Life Blood Of Business

How do you keep your cash flow moving? Reminder notices? Phone calls? Discounts? Late charges? Regardless of the tactics, billing and collections are a time consuming, labor intensive and even emotionally draining side of operating your business. But its also your lifeblood - no cash flow and eventually your doors close.

Recurring Payments - An Electric Opportunity

If your current customer base makes recurring monthly payments, both you and your customers can enjoy all the benefits of an automatic payment plan. Monthly fees for security systems, service contracts, pest control and day care services are examples of recurring payments.

Introducing Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT)

When recurring payments are made by check, the door is opened to recurring problems late payments, lost invoices, bounced checks, unpredictable cash flow and time intensive collections.

You can eliminate the burden of your billing and collections by using EFT - the no-hassle solution that deducts payments directly from your customers bank or credit card account via electronic funds transfer (EFT).

EFT lets you collect payments on time, every time. CheckFree guarantees that 100% of all collected funds are available the next business day after collection.

Your customers no longer have to hassle with writing and mailing a check each month. Instead, they pre-authorize their monthly payments to be made automatically. Payments are deducted from their checking, savings or credit card account. With payments pre-authorized, your bad debt and minor delinquency rates are drastically reduced.

The Customer Friendly Payments System

No matter where your customers bank, their payments can be automatically collected and deposited into your account. CheckFree's patented technology processes any payment to or from any financial institution.

Every payment is clearly itemized on your customers monthly bank or credit card statement - a great reminder that you are providing the automatic payment plan for them.

Cut Costs, Reduce Errors

With EFT processing, your billing and mailing costs will virtually disappear, along with the added time and expense associated with depositing checks, processing credit card receipts and handling late payments. Billing accuracy is increased and the chance for financial error, lost or stolen check, and fraud is dramatically reduced.

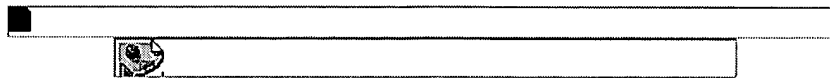

Boost Customer Retention

EFT can boost your customer retention rate. Customers who make automatic payments establish longer relationships and are more likely to continue services with you over time.

Complete Payment Access

CheckFree's EFT processing gives you access to all payment processing networks, including:

- Visa
- MasterCard
- American Express
- Discover Card
- Federal Reserve ACH
